To Fall Asleep on a Wide Beach

By John Gibb

To fall asleep on a wide beach
In good-natured autumn is to leave
The narrow body behind.
It props a sand-dune while you travel
Upward in darkness loved and familiar:
Beyond the roar of breakers,
Beyond the footprints that brought you here,
To a place beyond sound, and above the sun.

INVITATION

Ron's family thank you sincerely for your love and support at this time, and for your attendance today in person and online.

At the conclusion of the service refreshments will be served in the adjacent Catering Lounge to share many more memories with the family and each other. Ron will depart for Southland Crematorium for a private cremation during this time.
